Senate, House Bicker As Legislature Quits

New Records for Filibustering, Number of Bills

Stratton Wields Veto Pen Against 13 Measures

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The 69th General Assembly, called by its own veterans the most divided and confused in history, adjourned sine die Thursday night, in its final minutes still fusing and feuding.

The legislators trekked homeward today, taking with them new records for filibustering, introduction of bills and the amount of money they tried to appropriate.

House Speaker Warren L. Wood (R-Plainfield) announced final adjournment of the House first at 6:48 p. m. CST and Lt. Gov. John William Chapman closed out the Senate session 12 minutes later.

Even as the legislators left, Gov. William G. Stratton had to come by wielding a veto pen against 13 bills among the flood of measures passed. The vetoed bills included two for money for commission investigations.

Senate, House Bicker

The last minute fighting was between the Senate and the House. The Senate shot holes in the House passed bills for a new state Department of Personnel and a re-organizing of the 1955 civil service code. The bills were the pet projects of Speaker Wood and the House was indignant over the Senate's affront to him.

Then the Senate killed off House bills for a prevailing wage to be paid by all public bodies and a new 3.25 cent minimum wage standard. The Senate would not accept house-backed amendments.

These fights left senators charging the House had caused trouble all session, and the House saying the Senate tried to run the whole show by holding up major legislation.

The biennial General Assembly, which will next meet in January, 1957, adjourns on June 30 because the constitution says its laws shall become effective on the next July 1 after they are passed.

Behind all the division, bickering and uncertainty of the legislators were the major issues and changes that could determine the outcome of the 1956 state election campaign.

Pass 616 Bills

In the last four days of the session many of these major items and hundreds of less important ones were acted on. A check showed final passage of 616 bills and defeat or tabling of 44 others actually considered. This was nearly twice the number voted on in the previous 24 weeks.

There were 2,158 bills introduced, compared to the previous high in a session of 2,044 in 1951.

Vote to Withhold Funds for Dixon-Yates Project

Action Taken if Memphis Builds Own Steam Plant

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Appropriations committee voted today to withhold funds for the controversial Dixon-Yates transmission line if the city of Memphis, Tenn., takes definite action within 90 days to build its own steam plant.

The action came about an hour after Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) urged that "strings" be tied to the $6,500,000 item to finance the electric transmission line.

Johnson urged the action in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to take a "new look" at the whole Dixon-Yates deal to determine whether the private plant now is necessary.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) told newsmen that the funds for the line were left in the big House-passed public works money bill. But Bridges explained that they cannot be spent if Memphis takes "definite action" to build a municipal plant as it has announced.

Override Hill Motion

Bridges said the 6½ million dollars earmarked for the transmission line "will not be spent if, within 90 days the city of Memphis goes ahead on a firm basis with the plant."

He said the language makes it clear that Memphis must undertake a "definite commitment" to build the plant within the 90-day time limit. He said similar language has been used in the past.

Bridges said the committee overrode a motion by Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.) to strike the transmission line item entirely. That was the course which Johnson said he favored.

Under the contract the Dixon-Yates utility group is to build a steam generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., and feed 600,000 kilowatts of power into the Tennessee Valley Authority network at Memphis to replace power supplied by TVA to atomic energy installations.

The transmission line would join a proposed company-built line to take Dixon-Yates power to the TVA network.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said that "if the President can take another look at the Dixon-Yates project, certainly the Congress can—and should—take another look."

Johnson said "it does not seem to be very prudent to appropriate funds for a project that is unwanted and unneeded." He said he hopes the President's order "is the preliminary to cancellation" of the Dixon-Yates contract.

Nation Begins 3-Day Holiday Amid Warning

By United Press

The nation starts its three-day Fourth of July holiday today sobered by a warning that a record 380 persons may be killed on the highways before the long weekend ends.

About 40 million cars—an all-time high for the holidays—were expected to clog the nation's roads between 6 p. m. today and midnight Monday.

The National Safety Council based its record estimate of traffic deaths on the high turnout of cars. But it issued an additional plea that heavy traffic doesn't have to mean highway slaughter.

The holiday found the nation's eastern half sweltering in a muggy heat wave.

Cool air was pushing across the northern and central plains, sending temperatures falling 10 to 20 degrees in parts of the western Midwest and touching off thunderstorms and squalls.

But it was hot and sticky in the East, with no relief promised within at least 24 hours.

At least one traditional July 4th menace—fatal fireworks explosions—appeared well under control in at least 42 states.

Fireworks were banned in one form or another in these states, either through a uniform "model law" in 28 states or by laws restricting the size of fireworks in the others.

Only six states—Nevada, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi—had no state controls at all.

Run by Fire Department

The fire department made a run at 9:40 a. m. today to the Four-Way cafe, where the interior of a barbecue pit caught fire. There was no damage.

Aged Woman Falls To Her Death in Elevator Shaft

CHICAGO (UP)—An elevator jumped five feet just as Mrs. Edith Davis, 70, was stepping into it Thursday. She plunged 12 floors to her death.

Horrified witnesses said they saw the widowed woman hold on briefly to the floor ledge of the Venetian Building elevator shaft. She lost her grip before aid could reach her.

Mrs. Davis had just stepped from a beauty parlor and joined two other women at the elevator door.

Elevator operator Edward Porters, 32, told the women he had to go up one more floor before he could take them down. The two women stepped into the car immediately. Mrs. Davis hesitated and then started to follow them.

At that moment, the elevator jumped, Porters said. Mrs. Davis was knocked backwards and apparently rolled into the shaft.

An inquest was scheduled to discover how the accident could have happened.

Hoover Ready For New Call to Duty by Gov't

WASHINGTON (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover today closed out another career-government reorganizer—and stood ready, at 80, for new calls to duty from his country.

The elder statesman stepped down from his post as chairman of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, generally known as "The Hoover Commission."

But Mr. Hoover had no intention of counting himself out for further service to the government.

"I can't retire," he told a farewell news conference Thursday. "Any man who is physically able has no right to refuse service to his government in times of crisis as this country is now in."

Mr. Hoover pronounced the words solemnly. In the course of four decades, he had been called to serve many times. He never refused.

In 1914, he was chairman of the American Relief Committee—which helped Americans stranded in war-torn Europe get home. In 1915, he took over the Belgian relief program and fed that starving people. In 1917, he became U. S. food administrator.

Called Back by Truman

Four years later, he was made secretary of commerce and served under Presidents Harding and Coolidge, quitting in 1929 to become president himself. In 1946, President Truman called him back to service—as coordinator of the European food program—and again in 1947 to feed Allied-occupied Germany.

In 1948, again at President Truman's call, Mr. Hoover undertook the mammoth task of overhauling the executive branch of the government. The recommendations of the first Hoover commission on reorganization were estimated to save 4 billion dollars a year.

In 1953, another reorganization commission was created and President Eisenhower called on Mr. Hoover to head it.

Two Illinois Girls Burned in Fire

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (UP)—One of two Illinois girls burned in a hotel fire Thursday was reported in only fair condition today.

Five-year-old Debra Dunning and 12-year-old Sharon Moore were burned in a fire that destroyed the Villa Hotel and tavern near McClure. They were brought to a Cape Girardeau hospital where the Moore girl was in fair condition. The Dunning girl was reported in fairly good condition.

County Welfare Dep't Moving To New Quarters

The Saline County Welfare department of the Illinois Public Aid commission today was moving into spacious new quarters on the lower level of the Rose building, where it has had offices on the second floor for several years.

The general work on the new quarters was done by T. P. Thompson and Sons, Contractors. There are six private rooms for visitors, a reception office, open space in the southeast corner for stenographers and the financial office in the southwest corner.

The walls have been painted apple green and green floor covering laid. The ceiling is white. The new offices have been lacquered. Air-conditioning and new lighting have been installed.

Ray Owens, Saline county welfare superintendent, said that the new offices will be much more convenient for elderly and disabled persons who have business there. The entrance is on the Elm street side.

The Saline County Welfare department has offices for Old Age Assistance, Aid for Dependent Children, Blind Pensions, Disability Assistance and General Assistance.

Mr. Owens said the offices would be ready to service the public next Tuesday.

8 Portuguese Jets Crash Into Mountain Peak

LISBON, Portugal (UP)—The Portuguese air force announced today that eight American-built F84 Thunderjets of the Portuguese air force in two stacked waves crashed follow-the-leader fashion into a fog-shrouded mountain peak.

All eight pilots were killed in the multiple crash which forced cancellation of the nation's observance of Air Force Day.

Earlier reports from the scene had said the eight planes collided together in air during maneuvers.

Later reports said the eight planes, which had been given Portugal as U. S. aid to a member nation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization failed to clear a 3,000-foot peak in the fog-shrouded Carvalhos mountains.

A third group of four planes skimmed over the hidden mountain top and returned safely to Ota air base, 30 miles outside Lisbon.

The 12 planes had taken off a short time earlier from Ota air base for a flying salute to the separate Portuguese air force which was created three years ago, on July 1, 1952.

The planes were flying in three tightly grouped formations of four planes each, the air force said.

Recover Stolen Car Driven Here By Jail Escapee

A stolen car driven here by a jail escapee has been recovered for the owners, State Policeman Roy A. Lane announced today.

The car, a 1951 Studebaker, was abandoned on East Walnut street and yesterday Lane learned it had been stolen from St. Joseph's seminary at Teutopolis, Ill.

Lane said an investigation showed the car had been driven here by one Jerry Smith, who broke jail at Toledo, Ill., drove it here and hopped a southbound freight train.

Increase Will Average More Than 15c Hour

Other Companies Expected to Write Similar Contracts

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The CIO United Steelworkers and U. S. Steel Corp. reached a strike-ending agreement today on a wage offer averaging more than 15 cents an hour.

The agreement came less than 12 hours after 600,000 USW members shut down the nation's steel mills.

The offer included an 11 1/2 cents an hour across the board increase, plus 1-2 cent increases in increments for 32 job classifications.

The new wage scales were made effective as of today.

The increase boosted the average wages of steelworkers to more than $2.38 an hour.

Other companies in the industry were virtually certain to write similar agreements with the union, and the industry was sure to announce price increases on its products in a few days.

U. S. Steel President Clifford Hood directed the mills of his company, the largest steel producer in the country, to begin preparations at once to get back into full production.

Both Sides Concede

Hood said both sides made concessions to reach the agreement. Steelworkers across the nation closed down the mills last midnight. But the less than half-day shutdown cost the steel companies, who had been running at virtual capacity, millions of dollars in lost production.

USW President David J. McDonald said he believed the agreement with U. S. Steel "will provide a basis for concluding mutually satisfactory agreements between the USW and the basic steel companies."

The union opened negotiations June 7 with 96 basic steel and iron ore firms whose contract wage provisions ran out at midnight Thursday.

The walkout idled 600,000 men, two-thirds of whom are employed by the six top producers having contracts with the USW. In addition to U. S. Steel, they include Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Inland Steel.

The negotiations covered wage rates only. All other provisions in the current contracts, signed a year ago, run until June 30, 1956 when the USW will make the guaranteed annual wage a main contract issue.

Annual Wage Next

The steelworkers were expected to go after guaranteed annual wage provisions next year similar to those won by the CIO United Auto Workers earlier this month. In addition to a form of CAW, auto workers won a 6-cent, or 2 1/2 per cent hourly pay raise, which ever was higher; a cost-of-living clause boosting wages one cent an hour for each half-point rise in the cost-of-living index; bigger pensions and better insurance provisions, triple time holiday pay and a seventh annual paid holiday.

New wage scales in the steel industry will range from a minimum of $0.66 1/2 to a top of $3.54 1/2. Increases ranged from the minimum 11 1/2 cents to a top of 27 cents an hour.

McDonald made preparations immediately to contact other members of the "Big Six" groups—plus Great Lakes Steel Corp., Wheeling Steel, and Crucible Steel. Their negotiators were standing by to arrange for their contract signings.

Even as the strike ending agreement was being announced, smaller producers jumped on the bandwagon. Pittsburgh Steel Co. called the union to ask that it be allowed to sign its contract today.

Hood said his company probably would announce price increases early next week.

Earl Estes Replaces May On Police Force

Earl Estes today joined the city police force as a night patrolman. Charles R. Hine, commissioner of public health and safety, announced.

Estes replaces Ebert May on the force.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Mrs. Hobby Wanted To Frame
Her Answers For "Reporters Roundup"; Dismissal Of Lattimore Case Is Victory For Washington Attorneys; Under-
secretary Anderson Will Run For Governor Of Texas.

WASHINGTON. — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov stirred up national indignation when he refused to submit to free questioning on a TV program last week.
But unknown to the public, America's own secretary of health, Ovett Culp Hobby, pulled the same trick and almost got away with it.

In fact, Mrs. Hobby even outdid Molotov, who was willing to appear on CBS' "Face The Nation" program if all questions were submitted in advance. Mrs. Hobby went so far as to hand reporters
a prepared script, telling them
what questions to ask.

The lady cabinet member agreed to be interviewed on the MBS radio program, "Reporters' Roundup," by veteran newsmen Jim Lucas of Scripps-Howard and Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register and Tribune. At the last minute, however, she over a prepared script and an ultimatum.

She would not appear on the program, she sent word, unless the reporters stuck to the script. They were to ask her the questions she wanted to be asked, then wait for her prepared answers. In other words, the reporters would appear as straight men, giving her the cues for her lines.

Of course, Lucas and Mollenhoff
flatly rejected her ultimatum.
They sent back an ultimatum of their own. If she refused to submit to free questioning, they said, they would announce it on the program and interview her severest critic, Oregon's Senator Wayne
Morse, in her place.

Mrs. Hobby thought this over for 15 minutes, tore up the prepared script and meekly showed up for a no-holds-barred interview. She may have regretted it afterward,
for it was on this program she made her famous statement that the Salk vaccine program had not been mishandled but that, in any case, it was all Surgeon-General Leonard Scheele's fault.

Note: When Molotov refused to face free questioning, CBS Vice President Sig Mickelson announce-by the press and free and opened: "The right of free questioning discussion is the cornerstone of international understanding."

Washington correspondents
would say the same is true of domestic understanding, though too many administration officials, like Mrs. Hobby, have adopted the philosophy that the government knows best what the public should be told.

LATTIMORE CASE
Real victor when the Justice Department decided to drop the case against Owen Lattimore was former Judge Thurman Arnold and his two associates, Abe Fortas and Paul Porter. They form the law firm that took the Dr. Peters case up to the Supreme Court, battled the Dorothy Bailey Case, defended Lattimore and have done more than any other three lawyers to fight for civil liberties. With them in the Lattimore case was Senator Jee O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

In none of these cases did they take a fee, and in the Lattimore case they even had to pay the expense of the appeals.

The Lattimore case, incidentally,
was brought not by Brownell but in the final month of the Truman administration by retiring Attorney General James McGranery as the result of a pledge he gave the late Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, that if confirmed by the Senate he would prosecute Lattimore.

McCarran, then chairman of the Judiciary committee, had held protracted closed-door hearings in which Lattimore was cross-examined for days at a time. It was on the basis of a memory test as much as anything that Lattimore was indicted, namely, whether he perjured himself when he testified regarding the use of Laughlin Currie's office and the answering of certain mail some ten years before.

NEW GOVERNOR OF TEXAS?

It may be denied, but outgoing Undersecretary of Defense Robert Anderson will return to Texas to run for governor. He has been sounded out by some of Governor Allan Shivers' most powerful supporters, who are tired of Shivers and would like to see Anderson in the Texas executive mansion.

This is the real reason Anderson is quitting the Pentagon before becoming too closely identified with the Republican administration.
Though Texans voted for President Eisenhower, they are traditionally Democratic and their sensibilities might be offended by a governmental candidate wearing a GOP label.

Anderson did such a capable
job, first as secretary of the navy,
then as undersecretary of defense,
that he was considered in line for Charlie Wilson's job as secretary of defense. However, the soft-spoken Texan, who has a heart of gold, prefers to go home to Texas politics.

Meanwhile Governor Shivers,
sensing he is on his way out, has tried to cook up a deal with Texas Senator Price Daniel. Shivers has wanted Daniel to give up his Senate seat and run for the government with Shivers' support. Then Shivers would get himself appointed to the Senate in Daniel's place.

Daniel was once interested, but now realizes most of Shivers' support has gone over to Anderson.

POLITICO-GO-ROUND

Oklahoma Republicans have been thinking about pulling an "Ed Moore" by pushing alleged Democrat William C. Doenges for the Senate on the Republican ticket.
Doenges is Democratic national committeeman from Oklahoma,
but worked covertly for Eisenhower and was once told by Democratic Chairman Steve Mitchell:
"All you do is use the mask of the Democratic party." Oklahoma Republicans once elected Ed Moore,
a Democrat, to the Senate as a Republican, and some of them would like to do the same thing with Doenges. Herbert Hoover's assistants are doing more than making recommendations on reorganizing the government. The other day Hoover's research director, Harold Metz, sat in the Government Operations committee handling up little slips of paper to Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio,
and Congressman Charles Jones,
the only Republican from North Carolina. They in turn were the only congressmen asking critical questions about the Rural Electrifi-cation Commission. Hoover, who hates public power or anything close to it, has recommended
the gutting of REA. President Eisenhower put his signature on an agreement giving Argentina atomic materials and secret atomic data from the USA after the recent Catholic riots in Buenos Aires.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

THE STORY: Unwittingly Private Detective Michael Shayne has helped a fugitive, Jack Bristow, escape arrest for murder. He phones police anonymously giving the suspect's name and stating that Bristow has been wounded. When Police Chief Will Gentry calls on Shayne and his secretary, Lucy
Hamilton, Reporter Tim Rourke
covers up for Shayne.

Michael Shayne grimaced sourly
and growled: "All right, Bright-eyes. That was fast thinking when you grabbed the phone in front of
Will, though not really necessary.
We're not hiding anything. Not much, anyhow," he amplified with a glance at Lucy.

She smiled back at him with an effort. "I'm afraid I've got you in an awful mess, Michael. Though I still swear I can't make myself believe Jack Bristow can be guilty of anything like murder."

"An old boy-friend of Lucy's," Shayne explained to Rourke with a shrug. "He never strangled her,
and she refuses to believe he'd go that far with any other woman."

Timothy Rourke dropped onto the divan beside her and covered one hand with his. "Don't pay too much attention to Mike. He's sore and jealous, but when it comes to a showdown he'll be riding out in front of you like a knight on a white charger."

Lucy smiled miserably at him.
"I've got him in a horrible mess,
Tim. You see, Jack did come here to hide from the police. And I didn't tell Michael. I was afraid."

"Let me do the talking, Angel," Shayne cut in sharply. "Don't go off half-cocked on any of this. Lucy hadn't seen Bristow for years until he busted in on her a couple of hours ago with a slug hole in his stomach and needing help. She didn't know it was murder, but she did refuse to cover up for him, and tried to call me."

Shayne broke off to gesture at the telephone. "He jerked the cord
loose when she tried to phone me,
then locked himself in her bedroom. I showed up just then," Shayne went on, improvising swiftly. "and before she could tell me about it, this Sergeant Loftus and his goon squad came charging in and got me sore. So I kicked them out without knowing Bristow had been here, and I admit I felt like a fool when Lucy told me a minute later that he was here. I broke down the door," Shayne went on swiftly, "but it was too late anyhow. He'd got out the window and down the fire escape in the meantime. They were already onto him being in this building and I saw no reason to drag Lucy into it by telling her part when it was too late to do any good. That's all there is to it."

Rourke's black eyes were fever-bright. "But you did make that call in to give his name and description?"

"Sure," Shayne conceded readily. "It was too late to do anything else by that time. If the fool hadn't dropped the slip of paper with Lucy's name, she'd never have come into it. And by the time we knew about it, it was too late to start telling Will Gentry the truth."

Lucy avoided meeting Shayne's eyes because she didn't dare let him see the gratitude shining in hers.

"How badly was Bristow hurt, Lucy?" Rourke asked after a moment.

"I honestly don't know. It was his side right here," She indicated the spot beneath her ribs with a forefinger. "It wasn't bleeding much outwardly and he seemed pretty good. He claimed a dead man had shot him," she added with a shudder. "I don't know what to think now. Is there any real evidence that he killed the girl on 18th Street?"

Rourke shook his head slowly.
"Nothing definite, I guess. They don't know much of anything yet.
The girl in an adjoining room
found Trixie's body. Gladys Smith, she'd signed the register," he added, "but the other girls call her

Trixie. She's new in Miami. Looks about 16. About Bristow. The only thing tying him to it thus far is the taxi driver who picked him up a block away at the right time and brought him here. That, and the paper with your address on the floor."

Shayne tossed off his cognac and got up to stride up and down the floor. "Will Gentry," he argued,
"said there wasn't any blood in the room. No gun. Hardly looks like he was shot by the girl in self-defense."

"Let's quit telling fairy stories and get down to the truth. What did happen here tonight?" Rourke asked.

Lucy straightened up with a gasp of alarm, but Shayne continued his pacing without breaking stride and declared flatly, "That's all of it, Tim. Don't blame Lucy too much.
She thought the guy was still there in the bedroom, of course, when the cops came. . . and the cop at her door didn't give her a chance to tell him anything. In fact," Shayne went on with a twisted smile, "I sort of took the play away from her."

"Wait a little minute," said Timothy Rourke wearily. "This is me.
Remember? Not the cops. I don't mind covering up for you two nice people, but I'm waiting to hear you say which one bumped the guy."

It was Michael Shayne who reacted this time instead of Lucy who didn't catch the full import of the reporter's words. "What guy, Tim? What are you talking about?"

"The guy under Lucy's bed," said Rourke. "Jack Bristow at a guess,
from the quick look I grabbed."

Rose Voted Down As State Flower

SPRINGFIELD (CP) — The rose no longer threatens to replace the native violet as the official flower of Illinois.

The state Senate Thursday voted down the bill to make the rose the flower of the Prairie State and forced the Senate sponsor to strike
the bill from the calendar.

When Sen. Roland V. Libonati (D-Chicago) rose to speak on the bill a half-dozen not-so-shy violet backers shouted "roll call." The secretary called the roll and the bill got about 20 votes, six short of passage. Libonati requested the bill be stricken.

The place of the violet is safe
for at least two years.

Rep. Carl H. Preihs (D-Pana)
had sponsored the bill. His home town of Pana is a commercial rose-growing center, called "city of the roses."

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our husband and father, Frank Rodgers, who left us two years ago July 4, 1953:
Little we knew with dawn that morn,
The sorrow it would bring.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near.

If all the world were to give,
We would give it, yes and more;
To see your smiling face again,
Come shining through the door.
Sometimes it is hard to understand Why some things have to be,
But in His wisdom God had planned
Beyond our power to see.
God gave us strength to bear it,
And courage to meet the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
This world will never know.
The beautiful things you did for us,
Live in our hearts each day,
And keep you near and dear to us,
Though you have passed away.
Sadly missed by his wife, Eva, son, Homer, and daughter, Mrs. Evadene Hamilton. 1-41

Yankees Sign Lefty Ted Gray

NEW YORK (AP) — Lefty Ted Gray, twice cast adrift by American League teams this season, hoped for the magic of the pinstriped Yankee uniform today to make him an effective pitcher once again.

Gray was signed by the Yankees as a free agent Thursday to replace Bob Grim, last year's rookie of the year, who is suffering from a sore elbow and was placed on the disabled list. Apparently it was a "last chance" assignment for chronic lefty Gray, who was given his unconditional release by the Cleveland Indians last Friday after all other clubs waived on his services. The Indians signed him on June 15 and he worked twice in relief for them, showing little each time.

The early fiction written by John Galsworthy was published under the pseudonym of John Sinjohn.

Yankees Put OK on Score; Fast But Curve is Top Pitch

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Yankees and Indians swapped shut-outs and the Cleveland club left the Bronx trailing by six, or two games worse off than when it came in.

It began to look like another Yankee year. There was much to be excited about, but 66,511 people left the Stadium talking about Herbert Jude Score, the Tribe's new and left-handed Bob Feller.

During the training season in Tucson, we watched, a trifle breathless, as Herb Score, just turned 22, went through the simple motions of throwing a baseball to another guy in a sideline warm-up. This graceful dead ringer for Hal Newhouse is, as we remarked at the time, so swift and darting that he is frightening.

Score was not advertised to pitch at Yankee Stadium. This show was good enough to go on its own and the largest Stadium crowd in four years was additional evidence that the customers will turn out, television or no, provided the production is there. But not letting the fans know that Score was going to pitch is like the musical, "Fanny," opening on Broadway without giving Elio Pinza top billing.

With a chance to break even in the four-game set, Al Lopez decided to start Bob Lemon, despite the fact that the old pro suffered from a pulled muscle in his left leg.

HAD MANAGER LOPEZ elected to send Score against Whitey Ford, this would have been written as a running story from the press box.

As things turned out, Ralph Kiner in left field obligingly threw in two runs for the Yankees, one on Lemon in the first inning and another on Don Mossi, who finished after Hank Majosi flied into a double play for Score in the seventh.

Taking over for the lame Lemon in the second, Score fanned nine while walking two and giving up a lone single in five runs.

That's more Yankees than any other pitcher has struck out in nine innings this season. The six-foot-two-inch, 185-pound blond was just getting up steam when removed for the pinch-hitter, striking out Irv Noren, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron, close out his chore and serve notice on the New York Americans that they had a lot of left-hand pitching to look forward to.

IT WAS THE YANKEES' first look at the widely-heralded Score, who last year struck out a record 300 batters in the American Association.

Swelling his season's strikeout total to 120 in 104 innings, Score had vaunted sluggers swinging at curve balls in the dirt—grounders, as Casey Stengel calls pitches of the sort. By comparison, Bullet Bob Turley of the Yankees had 106 strikeouts in 111 1-3 innings.

The black curtain was up to make room for white-shirted fans in the center field bleachers and the Yankees complained that they couldn't see the ball, but you only have to look at the boxscore to know they were deeply impressed with the aspirin tablets ahead.

"Tree-men-dous!" said Manager Stengel of the Yankees. "He's going to be big—real big."

"And I'll tell you fellows something," continued Ol' Case, addressing his assembled hired hands in the clubhouse, "as fast as he is, wait for his fast one. If I were hitting, I'd never go after one of them there curves. He's real quick, but could be a bit wild with the fast one. The curve is his big pitch."

like Tommy Bridges, who stuck out in that department for the Tigers some years back. It is as though the ball dropped off the end of a table and he continually gets a piece of the plate with it.

"I hit against Turley for a year and a half," remarked Irv Noren, "and he is faster than Score in my opinion. But I should talk about Score, when I didn't even see the ball and he took the bat completely out of my hands."

Someone asked if Score was as fast as Karl Spooner, the Dodgers' southpaw phenomenon.

"Faster," said a National League pitcher, "but Spooner has one thing on him. He has the fastest change-ups off the first ball that I ever saw."

"He doesn't have to," said Bill DeWitt, the Yankees' assistant general manager.

"When Herb Score is pitching as he did against us, the wicket is in the wrong place."

Walker's, Cubs, James Win Kiwanis Tilts

By David Nelson

Walker's Cleaners edged the Athletic House, 54; James Bros. nosed out Sugar Creek, 15-14, and the Cubs barely won from the Dodgers, 11-10, in Kiwanis games Thursday. Close games were the rule as every contest was won in the late innings.

Trevor Whiteside blasted a long single with the bases loaded in the last of the eighth, to win the game for Walker's, 54. With the score tied, 4-4, at the end of seven, the game went into extra innings. In their half of the inning, Athletic House went down in order. For Walker's in the eighth, Crews was on an error, Hatcher walked, and was followed with an infield single by Parks to fill the sacks. Whiteside then hit his blow which would have been an extra-base hit, to win the game.

Don Price, the winning pitcher, allowed no hits until the sixth inning, as he gave up four runs on five safeties. Jones, the loser, was hit for five runs on 10 safe blows. Parks, Price, Henshaw and Crews led the winners at bat with two hits each, while Whiteside and Wallace had one safety apiece for Walker's. U. Weatherly, Speaks, and Feazel had singles, Gibbons had a double and Mitchell a home run for the losing Athletic House.

Sugar Creek rallied in the sixth with three runs, but failed to come up with one more needed to tie with James Bros. The winners scored two runs in the first, seven in the second, three in the third and three in the fifth for their 15 tallies. Sugar Creek scored two in the first, three in the second, five in the third, one in the fifth and three in the sixth.

For James at bat, Shelton had three hits, Cline had two and Abney, Robertson, Boyett and Cavenader had one hit each. Kernes led the losers at bat with two hits in three attempts. Mudge, Hegglin and Wilson had one safe blow each to round out Sugar Creek's attack. Boyett was the winning pitcher and Wilson took the loss.

The Cubs won 11-10, in a close game with the Dodgers. With the bases loaded, two out in the sixth, and the clean-up hitter due to bat, the Dodger runner on third was caught in a rundown to end the game. The winners scored one in the first and second, five in the third, one in the fourth and three in the fifth. The losers scored three runs in the first, one in the second, two in the third, three in the fourth and one in the sixth. Sammy Gibbons, the winner, gave up 10 runs on only three hits, while his teammates scored 11 times on nine safe blows. Dutton led the winners at bat with two singles, Gibbons and Odum had a triple apiece and Winters, Banks, C. Reed, Stinson and Nolen a single each to round out the Cubs' attack. Guiley, Harlow and Webber each had one single for the Dodgers. Barrett was the loser.

Wife of Slain Gambler Held Under $5,000 Bond

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. J. Fred Koenig, wife of a murdered gambler, was under a $5,000 bond today after refusing to answer any but routine questions at a coroner's inquest into her husband's death.

Her attorney, John J. Hoban, said Thursday night that he advised Mrs. Koenig to refuse to answer the questions on the grounds that they might open up something that might incriminate her.

Koenig's body was found last week in the trunk of his parked car in East St. Louis. He had been shot in the head.

The coroner's jury ruled that it was first degree murder committed by a person or persons unknown to the panel.

Mrs. Koenig, the first witness at the inquest, answered a few preliminary questions, but refused to say what her husband's occupation was. Hoban then raised objections to her answering further questions.

Earlier, State's Atty. Richard T. Carter said in Belleville, Ill., that Frank (Buster) Wortman, reputed to be the racket boss in St. Clair County from a Michigan vacation.

Trabert Wins Wimbledon Tennis Title

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati achieved the first major goal on his 1955 tennis program today when he won the men's singles title at the Wimbledon championships with a 6-3, 7-5, 6-1 victory over Denmark's Kurt Nielsen.

Trabert becomes the seventh U.S. player to capture the symbol of world amateur tennis supremacy in 10 renewals since World War II.

But Trabert hopes to use the title as a stepping stone to more concrete gains. He hopes to go on to regain the U.S. Davis Cup in a campaign to gain a rich professional contract.

Trabert is one of the hardest servers in amateur tennis but he crossed up Nielsen by serving slow spin serves which kept the Dane from getting the most out of his power game. Tony backed his service with brilliant net play. He anticipated Nielsen's shots and unleashed a shower of accurate volleys to befuddle the mustached Dane.

It took him just 73 minutes to win the title.

Last year the crew-cut youth from Cincinnati, Ohio, quit college in order to shoot for the Wimbledon crown and recognition as "the world's best amateur player." However, he developed hand blisters during the 1954 championships and eventually bowed out in the semifinals.

In this year's tournament, Trabert has waded through six opponents without the loss of a set. He has been playing some of the best tennis of his career and was a 7-5 choice to defeat the unseeded Nielsen.

Today's match could have a direct bearing on Trabert's tennis future. He has indicated he may turn professional, after helping the United States defend the Davis Cup this year, but he knows he wouldn't be much of a drawing card in the play-for-pay ranks unless he owns the Wimbledon title.

In the women's singles, Beverly Baker Flieg of Long Beach, Calif., and three-time champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., marched into the finals Thursday. Mrs. Flieg upset top-seeded Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 6-0, and Miss Brough downed Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 6-3, 6-6.

In the men's doubles semifinals, Rosewell and Neale Fraser also sprung a surprise by turning back Trabert and Seixas, 6-2, 1-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, while the Aussies' No. 1 team of Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwig defeated teammates Mervyn Rose and George Worthington, 7-9, 6-4, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

Dodgers Cash In On Bunts To Defeat Giants, 6-5; Braves Regain Second Place

By CARL LUNDQUIST United Press Sports Writer
Home runs and extra base hits rattled off Brooklyn bats almost on an assembly line basis, but the humble little bunt, sneered at by sluggers, is as big a factor in the Dodger pennant runaway as any other.

In fact it would hardly be amiss to say that the Dodgers are bunting their way to the bunting. In their shining 6-5 victory over the Giants in 11 innings Thursday, four bunts, each deftly delivered on the first pitch, meant more than a two-run homer by Willie Mays which looked as if it would win the game for the Giants in the 10th.

On each occasion the Dodgers were desperate — facing sudden death defeat. In the last of the ninth, trailing 3-2, after Sandy Amoros and Gil Hodges singled, Carl Furillo, who is not noted for his bunting ability, laid down a sacrifice on the first pitch. Dixie Howell, rushed into the lineup for the first time this year because both Roy Campanella and Rube Walker were hurt, followed with a sacrifice fly that tied it up at 3-3.

Finessed Into A Tie
After Al Dark singled and Mays hit his 20th homer and his third of the series to put New York in front, 5-3, in the 10th, the Dodgers again finessed themselves into a tie. Jim Gilliam led off with a bunt single which hog-tied the Giant infield. Duke Snider tripled him home and Jackie Robinson slapped down a perfect squeeze to the first base side to tie it at 5-5.

The winning rally was achieved in the 11th when Eason Monzant, sixth Giant pitcher, walked Furillo to hotten the water. Howell came through again with a sacrifice bunt.

Legion Has Busy Holiday Schedule

If the weather holds fair, the Harrisburg Legion baseball team will have a pretty busy holiday week-end. Saturday the club goes to Menard where it will play the pentennial Menard Cubs and on Sunday will meet the M.L. Carmel Moose here at the town park.

On the fourth, the locals have a tentatively scheduled game with Corydon, Ky., at the park diamond also. Corydon has a fine team featuring practically all former minor league players with one having had a fling at major league ball.

The game at the prison will start at 12 noon and all Legion players are to be at the town park diamond by 7 a. m. ready to leave. The latter two games will start at around 2 p. m. here at the park.

Currently the Legion has been hitting the ball hard and batting averages show that there are three players hitting over .500 with three regulars also hitting over .400. A run down shows Merle Dailey with 10 hits out of 18 trips averaging .556; Bob Dallas with 16 hits for 30 trips with a .533 average. Dick Odle with 10 out of 20 hitting an even .500. Carl Griffiths and Harold Gulley are next with a .444 pace and have 20 hits in 45 trips and 16 in 36 respectively. Fred Williams is hitting .409 with 9 hits in 22 tries at the plate. Hitting .334 is Frank Logsdon with 11 hits and 34 tries. Dick Romanosky is at .275, Bill McNew is .281, Jim Parton at .258, Hay at .235 and Kennedy at .182.

In Cole's Tavern, Pungoteague, Va., the first play in America was presented in 1665.

that put Furillo on second and within easy delivery distance of home plate on pinch-hitter George Shuba's bounding single through the middle.

The victory was especially significant because of the showing of the Brooklyn bench, Howell coming through after Walker was injured in a collision at home plate and Shuba perhaps saving himself from being sent to the minors when the Dodgers bring up talent to replace men on the injury list. The Brooks now are 13 games in front of second place Milwaukee, 13 1/2 ahead of the Cubs and 18 to the good of fourth place Cincinnati. The Giants in fifth, 18 1/2 games in arrears, seem hopelessly out of it.

Braves Regain Second
The Braves regained second place in the only other National League game, coming from behind to defeat the Cubs, 7-4, with four runs in the eighth set up on an error by Randy Jackson. Joe Adcock hit a two-run homer for the winning blow. Del Crandall also homered for Milwaukee. Jackson and Harry Chitt homered for the losers.

In the American League, Detroit made it three in a row over Chicago with a 4-3 squeaker and Washington ended Boston's five game winning streak 3-2, in the only games scheduled.

Ray Boone drove in three Detroit runs with a homer and a single. Steve Gromek pitched a seven-hitter for his eighth victory, yielding one damaging blow, a two run homer by Minnie Mino.

Washington called on veteran Spec Shea to strike out young Norman Zaichon on four pitches with the bases loaded in the ninth and thus save Ted Abernathy's first big league victory. Johnny Groth drove in two of Washington's runs with a triple and squeeze bunt.

Building Dynamited At Coulterville

COULTERVILLE — A dynamite blast startled residents out of their sleep early today and badly damaged a former tavern building.

The blast lifted the frame building from its foundation and almost blew out one wall.

The building had been used as a tavern by Charles Odom of Coulterville who recently sold it to Ray Coleman of Chester. Coleman planned to use the building for a restaurant.

Randolph county authorities said they knew of no reason for the dynamiting.

January-June total was 108, compared to 71 cases of the dread disease in the same six-month period last year.

The department said 42 new cases were reported in June, as compared to 34 cases recorded in June, 1954.

COUNTY HOME BUREAU MEMBERS LEARN REUPHOLSTERING — Approximately 20 members of the Saline County Home Bureau attended a special training school and laboratory work sessions on reupholstering held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in the council room of the city hall. The group was supervised by Mrs. Dorothy Twardock, home furnishings specialist from the University of Illinois, and Mrs. Harry Harper, local home adviser. Nine chairs were stripped to the frame, springs retied, all new webbing, paralex, and cotton padding were used in preparation for the new outside covers which were all wool materials. No plastics were used. Several of the chair styles were changed to give them a more modern design. Those furnishing the chairs were Mrs. Leonard Barton, Mrs. Clarence Barton, Mrs. Estel Barrett, Mrs. Lance Gaskins, Mrs. Trafton Dennis, Mrs. James Lockaby, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Leo Anderson and Mrs. James Kiehlhorn. Others present the three days were Mrs. Harry Hopkins, Mrs. Kenneth Behnke, Mrs. Ed Bean, Mrs. Beth Cushman, Mrs. Bill Rose, Mrs. Barbara Walker and Mrs. Willard Perkins. Rep. Powell Again Presses for Anti-Segregation Amendment

By United Press

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) asked House members to deny the White House, the Pentagon, and their own leaders today and approve his anti-segregation amendment to the compulsory military service bill.

Powell addressed the House as it opened debate on a compromise reserve bill replacing a previous measure which was stalled after members approved the New York Negro's original anti-segregation amendment.

Despite Powell's plea, House leaders predicted that the chamber would pass the new bill today with no race clause.

Other congressional news: Money: The House passed a bill appropriating $466,302,415 to run the State and Justice departments, the U. S. Information Agency, and the federal courts in the fiscal year that started today.

Public Works: The Senate Appropriations committee approved a public works bill providing $1,876,864,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission, Bureau of Reclamation, and rivers and harbors projects.

Housing: The House Rules committee refused on a 6-6 vote to clear President Eisenhower's public housing program for floor action.

Buses: The Senate passed a bill to authorize expenditure of $2,357,317,300 for military bases at home and abroad. The measure goes to a House-Senate conference committee for adjustment of differences.

Schools: A House Labor subcommittee approved a bill to authorize federal grants of $1,600,000,000 to states for school construction over the next four years.

Race Issue: Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services committee predicted the House will "beat the segregation issue" and pass the reserve bill.

The new bill was aimed at bypassing the segregation row by dropping any reference to the National Guard. But Powell insisted his amendment is still applicable.

The administration measure would build up a 2,900,000-man ready reserve by 1960.

Guy Price Wins Quiz Show Prizes While in New York

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Price have returned from the East, where Mr. Price was one of 900 delegates to the international convention of the Retail Clerks International association, held at the Commodore hotel in New York City.

And while in New York Mr. Price appeared on a television quiz show and won a gas furnace for a six-room house and a set of Samsonite table and chairs. The program was called "The Phrase that Pays" and Mr. Price correctly identified three out of four.

Mr. Price, who is business agent and financial secretary of Local 396, RCIA, and vice president of the union's District 1, said that delegates were present from all over the United States, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii at the convention.

There, he said, the speakers included Sen. Estes Kefauver; Drew Pearson, noted columnist; James Roosevelt; George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor; and the lieutenant governor of New York.

Financial Secretary James Sufbridge was named president of the international union at the convention and Vernon Housewright, who has been president, was named financial secretary.

The international executive board, Mr. Price said today, fixed monthly dues of all local union members at $3, effective with the August payments.

The next international convention will be in Hawaii, it was decided.

Mr. and Mrs. Price spent two weeks on their trip, two days of which were spent touring Washington, D. C.

Mr. Price announced today that a convention of District 1, comprised of 37 southern Illinois local unions, will be held in Harrisburg in October with the public invited to the business sessions.

Neal Executed By Firing Squad

POINT ON THE MOUNTAIN, Utah — Protesting his innocence to the last, Don Jesse Neal was shot to death here today for the 1951 murder of a Salt Lake City policeman.

"I am innocent," the former housepainter told Sheriff George Beckstead, who served as executioner.

"But I have no malice toward anyone," he added seconds before the four slugs from five 30-30 caliber rifles ripped through the black-shaped head which served as a target for the five marksmen hidden behind a canvas drop only 20 feet from where he was strapped to a wooden chair.

The signal for the execution was given at 6:02 a. m. CST. He was pronounced dead a couple of minutes later. Witnesses to the execution were not admitted until 60 seconds before the rifles barked their death signal at sunrise.

Neal Given Sedative

The peaked, black hood already had been placed over Neal's head and face. He was nervously clenching and unclenching his fists as he spoke his last words to Sheriff Beckstead and the prison chaplain, the Rev. Robert Pollock of the Salt Lake Catholic church.

Newsmen did not see the signal which set the executioners rifles ablaze.

Warden Marcell Graham said Neal had been given a sedative before he began the walk from his death cell to the especially constructed execution site at the south side of the prison.

Mrs. Irene O'Brien, of Covington, Ky., who has become known as Neal's foster mother because of her efforts on his behalf during the past four years, claimed the body. She said it will be taken to Cincinnati for burial "under an assumed name."

Mrs. O'Brien, who witnessed the execution from a vantage point behind a prison automobile parked less than a block away, said only she and Neal's wife and son will know the name under which he will be buried.

Senate, House Bicker As Legislature Quits

to be proposed each two years, less than three will be offered. The only amendment to be voted on at the 1956 election will be a new revenue article, the same proposed in 1952. It would allow legislative taxation of property by classes and both parties have supported it.

Gov. William G. Stratton's "No. 1" legislative goal, judicial amendment, was lost in the House. A third suggested amendment, to permit use of motor vehicle and fuel taxes only for highways, passed the house, but lost in the senate.

Taxest: A 1/2-cent sales tax increase went into effect today. It will bring the state another 100 million dollars for the two years it will stay on. Most of this money will be used for schools, colleges and universities and mental hospitals.

A new 2 1/2 per cent use tax aimed at collecting revenues on goods bought outside Illinois and returned here for use. This tax takes effect Aug. 1.

New laws will allow cities to levy a 1/2-cent sales tax and a 3 per cent tax on gross receipts of public utilities who can pass the latter tax on the consumer automatically.

The state sales tax base was also broadened to include finished items sold as part of services or construction.

Schools: The new formula for financing of public high and grade schools will see the state spend about 60 million dollars more in 1955-57, with a total appropriation of $200,600,000, and will require school districts to levy a higher minimum local tax to qualify for state aid.

The University of Illinois, Southern Illinois university and the state colleges will spend more than 25 million dollars more.

Junior colleges maintained by public school districts will get $100 per year per student state aid.

Legislative reapportionment: The governor has signed the state's first legislative remapping since 1901. It will mean a bigger Legislature in 1957.

Cook county will have a narrow House majority, downstate heavy Senate majority.

Toll roads: Despite harsh criticism by both sides of the aisle in the House, the state's half-billion dollar toll road program was virtually unchanged by legislative action. The only bills passed, as the Senate torpedoed eight measures, would set up a new 25-member advisory commission to aid the toll commission, require the toll road commission to pay its past and future expenses from bond issues, and require payment of prevailing wages on turnpike projects.

Among the measures killed were the governor's proposals for a highway speed limit, June primary elections, conversion of the Aeronautics Department into a division, conversion of the Illinois Public Aid Commission into a department, merger of the State Racing Board and Harness Racing Commission, a 75-cent minimum wage, a prevailing wage paid by all local to state governments, local crime fighting powers for the attorney general, a state crime investigation commission.

Among the governor's proposals passed were creation of a fulltime highway safety office, enlargement of the state police force by 100 men, higher unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits, a new health and safety industrial division, Chicago convention hall bills, and new mine safety provisions.

Five Turncoats Placed Under Guard in China

LONDON — Communist China announced today that the five United Nations turncoats who had expressed a wish to return home from Red China have been placed under police surveillance because of "rowdy behavior."

A Peiping Communist radio broadcast, monitored here, said one of three Americans, Otto G. Bell, "pretended to be committing suicide" by slashing the skin of his wrists with a knife.

"He took pictures of his cuts and said that after his departure from China he would use them as evidence of the maltreatment he received in China," the Red radio broadcast said.

Peiping radio added that the five U. N. soldiers, who switched to communism during the Korean war and now want to return to their homes outside the Iron Curtain, "have been staying out late into the night and drinking, in Peiping bars."

Because of their "disorderly" conduct, the Reds said, the Chinese Red Cross would be unable to "continue assuming responsibility for their safety."

"Consequently the Red Cross Society of China has obtained the agreement of the Peiping Municipal Security Bureau (police) that it would assist in taking responsibility for them until they leave China," Radio Peiping said.

Rules Ex-Wife Doesn't Have to Account For Popsicle Money

CHICAGO — Judge Elmer Holmgren ruled Thursday that Mrs. Dorothy Kratochvil, 37, doesn't have to account to her ex-husband for the popsicles she buys her five children.

The former husband, Charles Stanek, had complained that she was using part of his $20 weekly support payment for his two sons to buy popsicles for her three other children by another marriage.

Saline County CHECKERBOARD NEWS

By G. L. ABNEY
— FEEDING ADVISER

Godard's Farm Market

Health Hint

Don't wait until flies affect production before taking steps to control them. Thanks to Purina Research we have a simple, easy-to-follow fly control program.

We have sprays for controlling flies in farm buildings, including dairy barns, on cows, on stock cattle and even in the home. And we've got Purina's wonderful dry killer you just toss on the floor or ground. It knocks 'em dead right before your eyes! Ask for our pamphlet on fly control. We'll be happy to advise you, too.

Records, Records, Who Can Beat These?...

We ask you to tell of your production records... let us know and we can tell all the folks via this column what their Saline County neighbors are doing.

Down Eddyville way, Norman Gee on the Star Route had five hogs shipped to market at the age of 4 months and 27 days. The five hogs weighed 1050 lbs. Norman fed Purina Checkboard chow and got excellent results. The hogs liked the chow... Mr. Gee liked the profits... we're glad, because he's a customer... and I'm sure some St. Louis salesman is tickled to death.

Carl Sherfield compiled an interesting record with five hogs. He marketed them when they were 4 months and 22 days old. Their average weight was 210 lbs. Carl lives down on Route 2 at Stonefort. He feeds Purina feeds and is well satisfied with the results. Likes the profits.

Here's a good record and also a reminder to poultry raisers. Mrs. George Myers of Route 3, Harrisburg, for two consecutive months had egg production of 7138 eggs from 150 pullets. The average number of eggs for each pullet was 47.5. Mrs. Myers made this record last SEPTEMBER and OCTOBER.

You, too, can have good production with Purina chows so just as a reminder see us for heavy egg production this fall... it isn't far away. What you consider now will make you money in the fall.

Report from W. Frank Barger of Golconda gives a good account of what Purina Chow did for his hogs. Mr. Barger had 10 hogs that weighed 2090 lbs. at the market, age 5 months and 7 days. Good for Mr. Barger.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Suits Enjoy Trip to Washington D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Suits of Herod had a rather interesting trip to Washington, D. C., not long ago. They visited their son, Lt. Harlan E. Suits, wife and daughter of Alexandria, Va. Among the many places they visited were the Pentagon; Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington; the Arlington National Cemetery; Lee's Mansion and the Tomb of the unknown soldier. The bureau of Printing and Engraving was an interesting stop for them. Here they saw money actually being printed. These are just a few of the stops they made on their trip and from their enthusiasm and interest it would be a good vacation trip for almost anyone. We recommend it! By the way, Mr. and Mrs. Suits had a new granddaughter Paula Jean, who they got to see for the first time.

Our "Beautena" Is on the Pasture...

Remember "Beautena", the calf won here by Mrs. L. W. Tucker? Well, Beautena had a fine calf this spring and Sidney Hawkins bought Beautena for his milking herd. Mr. Hawkins lives at Carrier Mills, Ill., and Beautena is pretty happy. The calf she left behind is pretty happy too. She Purina fed animals just get a "happy" attitude toward things.
